Three thousand contract laborers were imported and a labor convention with Japan concluded in anticipation of more drastic legislation against the Chinese. The decade from 1885 to 1895 saw no less than four enactments on the vexed question of Chinese immigration. A law of 1885 prohibited any shipmaster from bringing in more than twenty-five Chinese who could not show pass-ports proving previous residence in the Hawaiian Islands. In 1886 was passed an exclusion act quite as rigid as the Geary law. No Chinese passenger shall be allowed to land at any port in the Hawaiian Kingdom unless such passenger be the bearer of a pass-port proving previous residence. The only exceptions allowed were merchants, for a limited term, wives and children of resident Chinese, officials representing the Chinese government, teachers, and ministers of the gospel. In September, 1889, a committee of the...
