Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Jew and Non-Jew The attitude of the Jew to the non-Jew during the thirty-five centuries of Jewish history has been subject to all the variations that time and circumstance could condition. A careful and detailed exposition of these changes would entail the production of a bulky volume. It shall be our endeavor briefly to outline the important phases of this great evolution, and to present the goal of the development, as well as to test its application at various points. Apologetics are apt to overstate; polemics to underrate. So on the one hand, the Jew writing in defense of his people has erred in presenting a picture so perfect even to the last detail as to create suspicion by its overperfection. On the other hand, the non-Jew has been guilty of gross misstatement and ignorant assertion. Most of these have copied the errors of their predecessors, one after the other, so that, though the scientific atmosphere is present in the form of numerous citations, its spirit has been sadly wanting by reason of manifest bias. The starting point of all true Jewish thinking has been the integrity of the Jew and of Judaism. Everything else has been subordinated to that one concept.
